Call of the Aethyr – LIN

9:46 pm PDT

LIN, LIN, LIN

I am looking at an eye, it is fuzzy in detail, It turns into a tube, of rushing water, organic tube

I am now outside of the tube, I can see through it, and the water going down, the top is like a bony structure, like a spine

I see up in the sky, there is a dark spot, square at times, almost in the shape of an eye, emanating energy, I pass through it, I look down and all is black, where I came through was almost like a whirlpool of blackness, I get the vague impression of something flowing in front of me

I am looking at a stream, with very high walls on either side, that are the blackness of space, I am (now) floating in space, the Earth is above me, And again, a mist moves and flows in front of me,

Show yourself

The mist in space appears, like a golden statue of some sort, Egyptian in style

There is a woman, black hair, shot bob (style), gold jewelry around her neck and chest, ornate, Egyptian in style,

What is your name? Speak clearly so that I might hear you. What is your name?

“I am she who cannot be told the way”

Yes, but what is your name?

Is your name Arsl-la-Q or Coo?

Arsle-La-Ha-Coo?

“Yes”

She who cannot be told the way, what are your attributes here in this 22nd Aethyr of LIN?

“I am”

Yes, what are your attributes here?

“I see those that know the way”

Yes, you see those that know the way, but what other attributes do you have here in this Aethyr?

“I join with those that cannot find the way”

Do you have any words of wisdom for me, with in this Aethyr?

“You cannot know the way within the star of another”

All right, do you have any other words of wisdom?

“You must always bear the light of reason”

Why must I always bear the light of reason?

“There is lost, without the light of reason”

Thank you for your advice, as it may be, is there anything within this 22nd Aethyr of LIN that you think I should see?, that would benefit me, could you please show me those visions now?

I am under the water, in like a cave, there is an opening off to the left hand side, I see a boat in front of me, there is stairs up that opening, the water has receded way back down and the opening is way above me, the cave is dark, the water is fast moving,

There is something in the water, really un-discernable, kind of a stake or something, as I pass by, I chose not to pick it up, I see something else in the water, off to the left hand side, the previous stake was on the right, it is shimmering, as if it is metal or god in structure,

I see a beast come out of the water, its mouth was somewhat like a moose, it changes slightly to almost that of a duck, a large head in size, with a long neck

On the wall, there appeared a figure, first appeared as a man and then as a woman, There is a drawing on the wall, pyramidic in shape, above would be a pyramid with the Eye of Ra in it with rays coming down,

From that I am moved into an Egyptian scene, I see a Sphinx, (the scene) has now turned into, what I first thought was, seeing the mouth of a dog, but it is that of a camel, with its teeth grinding at different angles,

I am now floating high in the sky, there is a mountain peak that comes up, made of rock, there is a light cover of clouds below me, As I come closer to the mountain, I see something on the side of it, as I go towards it, it appears to be a passageway, kind of crack, I go through it, the walls appear to be moving, as if of liquid, I come to a bigger opening, it is filled with round things, that I thought at first were rocks, but now they are not, I walk along the pathway and I see a square door with light coming out of it, I am still within the mountain, I walk through the passageway and it is A shaped, pointed at the top, it has gotten dark, there is a door with a small light shining through it

The whole scene is flipping upside down, I see darkness, I see a small creature, kind of crab like in appearance, but with no pinchers, It appears to be, by my perspective, rather large, about 2 foot, it has about eight legs all up front, the front section of its body, The whole scene is spinning again, I have gone through a doorway that looked like an eyelid, that puts me back into space, Space seems to be (un)folding open in front of me, it flows as if it is fabric, I see a large a large whirlpool in space, of the same flowing fabric matter, I was going to go through it, but it spiraled away from me, There was something, a small light in front of me, that shot off to my left hand side

There is something below me, like a large bug, (I am) still in space, as its wings flap forward and back, it is almost as if it (the wings) are the same dark fabric, this is a little bit lighter (in color)

I am back in space with the Earth above me, I seem to be rotating, the Earth is below and (then rotates) above me, then below, I am spinning faster, I started seeing a mist and then it turned into flame, that had a mist around it, almost in the shape of a pterodactyl, but a bird, I see long dark wings in either side, whatever is flying above, the ball of fire, is leaving a trail behind it, a gray mist,

Show yourself to me

I see figure, ornately dressed, long brown hair, (they) have a dress on with a V cut that goes down to the lower back, almost Victorian in style.

What is your name?

“I am Are-Ron”

Are-Ron, what are your attributes in this 22nd Aethyr of LIN?

“I came to see the way”

Can you please describe to be what the way is?

“The way is all that flows before you”

Why have you come to this Aethyr to watch the way? Are you specifically watching my way or all that pass through here?

“I watch all that pass”

“The way carries its own current”

“The current is my ride, too”

So, what you are saying is that you ride the current of the way, of those that come here?

“Yes,”

And how does this benefit you?

“It is how I become...”

It is how you become what?

“It is how I become one with the way”

So, you use those that come here, and ride the flow of their way, so that you may become one with the way”

“Yes”

And in return, do you provide anything to those that you use?

“No”

Is there any words of wisdom that you would bestow upon me in this Aethyr?

Any words that you think I should hear?

“No”

Is there anything that you believe I should see, within this Aethyr, that you could show me?

“Uhh...No”

While, at this time, I ask you to depart from my presence, I do not wish you to use me, as you have others. YOU MAY DEPART.

He is gone

I am in a dark structure, or castle, there is a window there, I float through the ceiling, I am now looking down at what appears to be the tower of a castle, it has four rock points that come up (spires) There is a pyramid type structure that has balanced on top something that is spinning, at first I thought it had two to four arms, but now maybe..., yes, it is round in shape, made of strips of wood, as it spins, It seems to be creating like a whirlpool of the fabric of space,

I am now floating above a river, there is a boat, a rather large boat, like a sail (boat), like an Egyptian boat, it seems rather narrow

Out of the river, comes like the jaws of an alligator, though its head is not like it should be, it appears to be mounted, like on that of a body, and the head is just out of the water.

I see the front of a building, it has a diamond peak doorway, the door opens, I go in There appears, on a throne, a woman, (her clothing) the color flapped open on a solid color, (she is) a little bit plump, older

What is your name?

“I am the Queen”

Yes, Oh great Queen, what is your name?, that I might address you properly.

“I am Queen Sa-Bot”

“Sa-Bah-Aye-Ee-Oh”

Queen Sa-Bah-Aye-Ee-Oh, might I ask what you are queen of? What is your domain?

“I am Queen of the land that is”

And what is this land that you are Queen of?

“I am Queen of the land that is known only to those that dare to seek me”

And what attributes do you have here in your land?

“I carry the weight of despair”

And those that come to seek you and your land, (to) what end are they seeking you, what is their purpose for seeking you?

“I carry their despair for them”

And what is the price to carry the despair, for those that seek you in your land?

“I ask for only the small of their Toe”

The toe does not reference a body part it references something else

What do you mean by Toe?

The Toe, or Toa, is what keeps them alive”

So, is the Toa part of their life force, their energy?

“Yes”

And for payment of carrying their despair, you receive a part, a small part of their life force or energy?

“Yes”

Do you have any words of wisdom here in this 22nd Aethyr of LEN that you feel I should hear, that may benefit me?

“Never sell your Toa”

That is a given

Are there any other words of wisdom you have?

“Never lose your despair, it can keep away the wondering of the mind”

So, despair can keep away the wonderings of the mind?

“Yes”

So, despair will help with concentration?

“Yes”

Could you explain to me how despair can help with concentration?

“Yes” behind that yes is a “No”

Could you please explain it to me?

“Yes, despair is the one thing that focuses the mind”

Is it because Man despairs about one’s own life or one’s purpose, does it focus the mind?

“Yes”

Thank you for your time Queen. Are there any visions within this Aethyr that you feel could benefit me? And could you please show them to me, if so?

“Yes”

I see a large cross, appears to be metal or wood, a cross is outlined on each quadrant of the cross, there are flowers, possibly roses in the center, there is a...almost like a rose bud or something, that has a single cross, smaller cross on it, the cross is even lengths,

I am now flying through the air, there are dark clouds above me and around me. Now I am spinning around, There is something below me, something flying ahead of me, I can see the fabric of space fold around it, as it flew ahead of me

I am back in Space, the Earth was above me, but now it seems far away

Floating through space is something that is coming at me, it appeared to be a rock pictogram of somebody in the fetal position, the legs up, that has now changed into a picture of a horses head and that has now changed into a creature that is moving through Space, I am able to see, again, the fabric of space cupped around it as it heads off.

I saw the Earth below me, I am up in the stratosphere, I can look down and see think white clouds, far below me, just below me are thinner clouds rushing by

I see a torch, I see a hand reaching down and grabbing it, the person grabbing it is in some type of body armor, almost rock like,

Looking down in a well, and now I am in it, there is something coming up out of the well, it is almost like a wall with two wings angled out towards the front, almost where a throne might be, on the back is a square opening, where perhaps a picture once stood, It appears like a measuring device almost, like a miniature swing set, but the swing was a round disc that held golden coins, if you will, that are the same size as it, roughly like 6 inches in diameter, and with that, it (was) on a beach, and a wave came and rushed underneath it.

The wave has become as clouds, as (the clouds) become as space, again I see something rushing ahead of me, I see it move through Space, as the Space cups around it and it leave a trail behind it, within the fabric of space

At this time I wish bring myself back into my body

As I do that, I see an image of a woman kneeling, the white off of her, wearing white, and she is gone, and I see water and there is light reflecting off of it.

I am back in my body
