Call of the Aethyr – ARN

9:30 p.m. PDT

ARN. ARN, show me your visions, ARN...

I pass through a real light barrier that puts me out in Space, the barrier might have been an eyeball, (I am) going through that same barrier, it is almost liquidy, pulls out of it what looks like a ball, maybe wrapped in yarn, the yarn is red and flaming, the round ball is all tied up with it, I go back through and on the other side, I look at the barrier and it becomes like a round gem in a setting, as it falls back away from me, or maybe I am pulled away from it, (the gem) was actually in the center of a large eyeball, as I pass through what would be the eyeball this time, I am looking down, it is almost as if I am looking through a window, looking down at what I guess to be the Abyss, the long creature flying around (like a dragon) I get the impression that I am above it, not in it, but above it looking in

ARN, ARN, show me your visions...

I appear to be over possibly a planet, but it was completely cloudy and when I tried to look over at it, it shrunk away as if it did not want to be seen, I am around a planet again, but I am rotating, the planet is moving clockwise so as I rotate, I see the planet above me, to my right, below me, then to my left, and then again above me, I see a like a mound come out of Space, half a figure popped out and then it was sucked back in, the mound closed, and as it closed (I saw) it was actually an eye closing, I am now moving backwards in a cave, ahead of me was light, more like sunlight than anything else I turn around to see where I am going, I now appear to be in a crater or an extinct volcano, above me are dark clouds and it is raining,

ARN, ARN

<There is banging outside the building that is fairly distracting>

ARN, ARN, show me your visions, ARN, show me your visions...

I see a figure sitting and then it becomes like a skeleton wearing a sleeveless sweater, the skeleton takes form and dissolves back, into like a couch, and then in its place I see a figure of a child, but its shady, the actual outline of the child is too dark to see, there is another outline probably six inches out from him that is a little bit lighter, and then another one (outwards) that is a little bit lighter, and another one,

ARN, ARN

I see a large head of somebody, it looks like it has been cut (at) off the bottom of the neck, I see someone sitting, a woman, but she has no face, working on something, it was like she handed out something that she was making,

What is your name? Speak clearly that I might hear you. What is your name?

“I am Con-Sar-A” she says with a really light feminine voice

Is that correct, Is your name Con-Sar-A?

“Con-Nee-Sar-A”

Your name is Con-Nee-Sar-A, is that correct?

“Yes”

Con-Nee-Sar-A, what are your attributes here within this Aethyr of ARN?

Please speak clearly that I might hear you. What are your attributes here?

“I am the greet” as in I am the greeter

And to whom do you greet?

“I greet those that come here following the way”

Are you here to greet me?

“Yes”

So I have come here following the way?

“Yes”

What is your purpose, this greeting?

“It is to point those forward”

And those that come here, where are they going that you need to point them forward to?

“They go forward to the ON” as in “they go forward to go on”

Where do they go on too? Answer me on clearly, where do they go on too?

“No”

Where might you point me?

“Follow the stream of life”

I have a vision of a stream in front of me, it is almost as if I am miniature, the stream is crystal clear water moving around large rounded rocks, as I was moving around, (I could see around) the corner in front of me, (I saw) the slopes of a darkened hills, it is as if the stream somehow bent, and where the bend is in the stream was, it bent upwards and started running up on the sky, or as if up on the ceiling or something, I saw what appeared to be ants or grasshoppers climbing up a wall towards the ceiling and up at the ceiling was the stream with the crystal clear water, the water has a slight glow to it, that water now goes along the ceiling, over the top of a large cavern, that has the same crystal clear sparkling water below it, there are rippling waves (on the top of) that water, <laughs> so, I was looking out across the cavern, with the large body of water in it, and all of a sudden I flipped or turned, I rotated so that the large body of water was above me and then I could see the stream of water below me running down what is now the floor, the large body of water (is now) above me as the ceiling, I see something unroll out toward me, almost as if it is boards that are wired together unrolling as a red carpet would unroll, <let me get back to the stream> That unrolling boardwalk felt like it was an invitation to follow that path, I found the stream and it was just coming out of a darkened area, looking in the water, I could see an image of a man, possibly (dressed like a Viking) but it was as if he was completely flat and floating along the surface of the water, almost as if it was a picture, I look to my left and there are just waves and waves of light, circular in pattern, coming at me, from a sphere or globe of light, I see a man, dressed in a suit, maybe the suit is from the 1800's, he has like a small cowboy hat on (derby hat?) He flesh is sunken back, it is as if he is clinging to the wall, his back is to the wall

What is your name? Speak clearly that I might hear you. What is your name?

No answer

I see an image of the stream again, it was almost as if there were prints on top of it, running upstream, the prints look almost like deer prints,

ARN, ARN...

I see a regal person, I saw an image of three hands holding something like a crown

What is your name?

The main guy who is holding the crown, there are two other hands coming in at 90 degree angles, (he is) a pudgy guy, kind of regal, white close, I asked him his name and he said "I am he who sitteth here"

What is your name sir?

Again he says "I am he who sitteth here"

You need to tell me your name and speak clearly that I might hear you. What is your name!

Is the beginning of your name Oss-Qua-Ta?

Could you please tell me your full name again so that I might hear it clearly.

Is your name Oss-Qua-Ta-Nee-Or?

"Yes"

Oss-Qua-Ta-Nee-Or, what are your attributes here in ARN?

"I am he that sitteth"

For why do you sitteth?

"I sit and wait for those that come"

When I first saw you, you had something within your hand, or within your palm, what is that, that you have?

"It is the crown that bears the Light of God"

Why do you hold this crown within your right hand?

“It...No”

Answer me clearly, why do you hold this crown in your hand?

“It is to be”

What is it to be?

“It is to be given to those that follow”

Those that follow, what do they follow?

“They follow the way”

I have come here following the way. Is the crown that you have in your hand for me?

He doesn't quite say yes, but he definitely doesn't say no

I see a crown, it has a snake coming off of it, I see it going on top of a head of a man with long hair, old and disfigured, scraggly looking, it is as if the crown is put on backward so that the snake is in the back of the head, it is almost as if it is a warning that those that do not...

Is it correct that those that are not on the way or those that are not worthy will not be able to handle the crown that you have

“No”

What was the purpose of showing me this vision then?

“It was to show the danger within the crown”

So this crown can cause disfigurement?

“Yes”

Does this crown cause disfigurement in the physical body?

“No”

(Does) this crown cause disfigurement within the body of light?

“Yes”

Am I worthy to receive this crown from you?

“Yes”

As I understand it, I am to wear it with the image of the snake in the front my head?

“No”

So it is to be worn with the snake in the back of the head, is that correct?

“No”

Could you please give me specific instructions on how to place this crown upon my head?

“It is to be placed with no desire or direction”

“It is to be worn on top of the crown that you all ready have”

So I should put on the crown that I was given in a previous Aethyr and then put on this crown, is that correct?

“Yes”

I will do so now

There goes the first crown <it sends chills down my body>

Where is this crown that you have?

He holds out his hand (with the crown in it, it has changed and is much smaller, the shape reminds me more of an hour glass then a crown, I would consider it a jewel to add to my other crown, I grab it and put it in the center of the other crown on top of my head)

Things change when putting on each of the crowns <laughs>

Things got a little fuzzy, almost as if I floated up, there was an eyeball I went through, I look down, it is kind of cloudy, there is a person holding a staff coming out of the clouds, it was more like a statue then anything else.

It is as if my body of light has expanded, it is hard to explain, it is almost the omnipresent feeling that I have in the last Aethyr, but with this experience..., the last Aethyr I was dispersed, but within this one, my energies are dispersed but I have a point of focus that I am seeing from,

It is as if I am floating around basking in the energy of the Aethyr, of the Universe, it is very relaxing, I see images of, almost like clouds, gaseous clouds within Space, moving, flowing,

Ok, my great large body of light just crashed into another large body of light, seeing within (the other body) there was like a galaxy <universe> in it, it just absorbed the crash and then was pushed away by it, it is almost as if I am like a cell within the body, that I am my own large roundish body of light floating through Space, the Universe, I have passed through a layer of clouds and they go far below me, as if I am moving up, I see another gaseous-being type of thing, not necessarily round, as I travel next to it, it is on my left,

I pass by another large planet or sun or entity, I pass through another layer of clouds, this time it is as if I went down through them, now I went back up through it again, below that layer of clouds was like another layer of something, quite a bit darker, it is hard to describe I see images of other objects as if they are moving along and then fade out, these are more structured object, maybe taking the appearance of a plane or a spaceship, I am going down a tunnel or square corridor, there was another large wall of energy in front of me, oh Wow, Ok, I went down, down, down, and now its just going up, up, up, up, Wow, this is really disorientating, <my head keeps flopping from side to side, going around in circles> I see a large flash off to my left hand side, I got the impression that it was like an ignition point, and at that point something was created or born, I am going through another tube, I am moving through this one backwards, Wow, I am going through something else, I see a cavern, on top of it..., it has a structure to it, almost like a skeleton, like I am inside (a body looking out toward the skeleton) the only thing I can reference it to would be like being inside a giant fish, I see another light that is without form, meaning not round, streaks of light come out of it and then curve back toward the center (like ribbons of light), it goes off to my left, I almost saw an image of a skeleton and now it is...I saw what looked like a cave with beings going into it, (the cave had a large opening, then the opening turned into an eye, I can see somebody's head laying sideways,

I have gone through the opening, I have gone through the eye, looking back, the eye is round and on the inside it has something black on it, it is spider-webbing out, ahead of me there is another round (cell) of light, I see other entities, if you will, these are more squared off, as if they are composed of individual blocks (stacked together but not completely a square), I am still floating around, I am in a cavern, there are rows and rows of maybe soldiers in white armor, It is as if I am floating around undetected,

As much fun as this is, I think I will take off my crowns, whoa, and I am still just floating around <my physical body is just loose and limp/ relaxed, but moving from side to side.

and around with the flow of my vision> <laughs> Wow..., It is as if I am being pulled or pushed around and the exterior of my body of light, which is large now and soft and malleable, I am seeing more scenes and it is still as if I am undetectable, scenes with different people in it,

At this time I am going to take off my crowns

Put them on my left hand side (of my body) within my belt or satchel on my side, I appear to have solidified back into my regular body of light, I no longer have the feeling of fluidity or movement, I see images and objects flying through Space, it is as if they reach a certain threshold and then they are absorbed into Space or they break apart into geometric shapes and then are quickly absorbed or dissipate, I saw what appeared to be rows and rows of beings, that were more spider-like, that were of a blue color,

At this time I will pull myself back into my body

I am back.
